The application has been amended as follows:

In claim 1, after determining a mark to market (MTM), insert – by use of a computer –; after providing MTM Collateral Credits, insert -- by use of a computer, after allocating said received collateral, insert – by use of a computer.

In claim 12, after determining a mark to market (MTM), insert – by use of a computer –; after determining anticipatory collateral credits, insert by use of a computer, after providing anticipatory collateral credits, insert by use of a computer, after allocating said received collateral ~~credits~~, insert – by use of a computer.

2. The following is an examiner's statement of reasons for allowance: The closest prior art, best represented by WO98532417, US 5802499 and Non-Patent Literature, Lee, A Question of Collateral, fail to teach a computer implemented collateral management system comprising the steps of determining a mark to market (MTM) value for each of the sub-portfolios; (2) providing MTM Collateral Credits up to the MTM gains on each of the sub-portfolios; (6) allocating said received collateral against the sub-portfolios of each of the users; whereby the total amount of collateral posted by each of the users is minimized by said MTM Collateral Credits and is used to protect against actual losses due to the potential inability of the collateral provider to fulfill its obligations. In addition, the prior art fails to teach a second embodiment comprising the steps of (1) determining a mark to market (MTM) value for each of the sub-portfolios; (2) determining an anticipatory collateral value for the portfolios and sub-portfolios of each of the users; (3) providing Anticipatory Collateral Credits to each of the users based on the difference between said anticipatory collateral value of the sub-portfolios and portfolios of each of the users; (4) notifying the users of their respective total collateral obligations; (5) notifying the users of the value of their respective said Anticipatory Collateral Credits; (6) receiving any required collateral from each of the uses; and (7) allocating said received collateral against the sub-portfolios of each of the users; whereby the amount of collateral posted by each of the users is minimized by said Anticipatory Collateral Credits and is used to protect against potential future losses due to the potential inability of the collateral provider to fulfill its obligations.

Any comments considered necessary by applicant must be submitted no later than the payment of the issue fee and, to avoid processing delays, should preferably accompany the issue fee. Such submissions should be clearly labeled "Comments on Statement of Reasons for Allowance."
